Sod Production

SCIC uses this information to measure the productive capacity of your operation in the program year and then compares it to the productive capacity of your operation in each of the reference years. Where necessary, your reference year margins will be adjusted to account for any structural change in your farming operation.

Provide historical information for each of the years in which you have reported (or should have reported) net farming income or loss to the Canada Revenue Agency.

Report only your share of crop share acres if you are a tenant or a landlord (who is eligible for the AgriStability program). If you have multiple operations, use a separate form to report the production for each operation.

Partnership Percentage	(%)	(%)	(%)	(%)	(%)	(%)
For partnerships, indicate your partnership percentage for this operation in each year.

Report 100 per cent of the acreage for the partnership below. Your partnership percentage will be applied automatically when your AgriStability benefit is calculated.
